NEAR-NEWS AND CHATTER FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To the lady first correctly guessing the identity of the person of whom the following is a character sketch, and bringing a copy of this paper to The Tribune office, a cash prize of $1.00 will be given. The subject of the sketch is a prominent citizen of La Crosse. After winning one prize, a contestant will not be eligible to again compete for a period of three months.

"Tis auld, but 'tis beautiful, Th' best ye ever seen, It's been in th' wood for 20 years— You know the stuff I mean!" He sells it in the place he calls his "store," a place where there are good things in store for those who take a chaser whenever the spirits move. There's no solace like the aroma of his weeds, no delight like the bouquet of his liquors. He pets the boxes and casks, like the dog lover pets his dogs, and he has the secret of a fortune in his gift of making all brands rare under his care and touch. He's one of the old timers of the city, an American and a democrat. He buys all goods direct from the factory, and gets a new brand every time the clubs swipe the last one he has made popular. He is fairly liberal, but he draws the line at customers taking a bath, and with stuff better than 100 proof you'd better pay attention to what he suggests. They order his goods from St. Paul and from Milwaukee and from Dubuque, because no other dealer can keep them just exactly like—well, like the fellow who's here.

Business men in La Crosse who were in high school in the early nineties recently passed the glad hand to Sam A. Rask, La Crosse High School, '92, who is now one of the big men among the bankers in the southern part of Minnesota, and no inconsiderable figure in the politics of the Gopher commonwealth as well. He was back here with his wife, a former La Crosse girl, looking up old friendships. He is one of the best representatives that La Crosse has sent out as a sample of the men produced here. He was born in Minnesota, in Houston, in 1886, but that does not keep him from being almost wholly a La Crosse product. Mr. Rask got most of his education here, and after he finished high school, he went into the Security Savings bank. In 1897 he went to St. Paul, and almost immediately thereafter listened to the call of the drums, and joined the Thirtieth of the Gopher commonwealth as well. He was back here with his wife, a former La Crosse girl, looking up old friendships. PLAN SIMPLE FUNERAL

LIEUTENANT GENERAL MACARTHUR WILL BE QUIETLY BURIED FROM HOME IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 7.—Commander Arthur MacArthur of Newport, R. I., and Captain Douglas MacArthur of Fort Leavenworth, Kas., arrived here today, in response to messages from their mother telling of the death of their father, Lieut. Gen. Arthur MacArthur. The funeral services announced for Monday at 10:30 a. m. will be simple in accord with views expressed before his sudden death by the soldier. The body of the late army officer will be clothed in civilian garb, Capt. E. B. Parsons, who was overcome with grief at the death of his close friend, will not be able to attend the services, although it was stated today that he is improving rapidly.

COULDN'T SIT ON LAP.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 7.—When Mrs. Cynthia Croisette, 22, who got her husband through an advertisement, sat on his lap and tried to caress him, he objected that it was taking the crease out of his trousers and was wrinkling his shirt. Her divorce suit will be given an early hearing, it was declared in court today.

Minnesota Infantry, with whom he fought all through the Spanish war. In 1899 he went to Blooming Prairie, Minn., as bookkeeper of a bank there. He is now cashier of the First National Bank at Blooming Prairie, and director of the Citizens' National at Austin, Minn.

While in La Crosse Mr. Rask was a member of the La Crosse Glee club, a once famous musical organization here. His wife, whom he married here in 1902, is a daughter of J. P. Miller, who came here in the fifties, one of the first settlers of the city.

Mr. Rask is a strong progressive, he admits with pardonable pride, and although he is in a democratic district, he is brave enough to run for office. He was a candidate for state senator two years ago, and only lost out by a couple of hundred votes. He says the chances are good that he will win when he runs the next time.

In the "Scrap Basket" of a newspaper which we cannot identify from the clipping that some observing reader has mailed us, we find an interesting story involving Senator Richard J. Ogelsby and the late Hon. E. O. Smith, both of Decatur, Ill., the latter, by the way, the father of Mrs. S. S. Hebbard, 103 S. 11th St.

The Smiths and Ogelsby used to live on opposite sides of the street in Decatur, and Mrs. Hebbard well remembers Senator Ogelsby as a confidential friend of her girlhood.

Upon the occasion of Mr. Ogelsby's election to the senate the Chicago Tribune indulged in a laudatory editorial, describing the rise of the senator "from a poor carpenter."

Choosing to misunderstand this allusion to the new senator's early poverty the Chicago Times said editorially:

"Yes, he WAS a poor carpenter—a d—n poor carpenter. If you doubt it, ask Hon. E. O. Smith, of Decatur, for whom he used to work as a carpenter."

The "Scrap Basket" observes that this slam at his carpentering made a big hit with the senator, who knew himself as a very "bum" carpenter better than did anybody excepting Hon. Smith. Indeed, it was a matter of pride with Mr. Smith that he had induced Ogelsby to give up trying to make a carpenter of himself and to study law, a thing the senator later succeeded at as well as he did in war and politics.

Although the prohibitionists cast only one vote in the town of Campbell at Tuesday's primaries they lost that vote because of a queer notion of the goddess of chance and the working of the law. When the election clerks counted the votes after the polls were closed they found one more ballot than there were voters registered. According to the law, in cases of this kind, one of the clerks drew a ballot at random from the box. This ballot, which was later destroyed, was found to be a prohibition ballot and although there were about forty votes in all it was the only one cast by the believers in drouth.

LIQUOR $18 A QUART

HERMAN NOLL SELLS TWO BOTTLES OF SCARCE CHARTREUSE TO CONNOISSEUR FOR $36

The price of 'Chartreuse in La Crosse took a sudden jump this morning when Herman Noll, proprietor of the Hub, sold two bottles of the liquor to a Dubuque for $36. Eighteen dollars a quart is the present quotation on Chartreuse.

When the Carthusian monks were forced out of their ancient stronghold at Chartreux, France, they moved their distillery to Spain. Connoisseurs do not consider the liquor made in the Spanish distillery as anywhere near the equal of the older brand made before the monks were forced out of France. There is but little of it in existence now, and it has gone to a premium.

Last week at Chicago the Blackstone hotel bought a quantity at $11 a bottle, and is now retailing it at a dollar for a one-ounce drink. The Dubuque connoisseur wandered into the Hub this morning and noticed four bottles of invaluable liquor. He negotiated for them and finally paid what is now regarded as the highest price ever paid for a bottle of Chartreuse. Herman Noll has two bottles left.

COMPLICATIONS IN RACE FOR SHERIFF

Board of Canvassers Unable to Decide Whether Johnson or McDonald Is Nominated

MISTAKES IN THE REPORTS

Five Towns Fail to Make Correct Statements on Second Choice Ballots

The first trial of the "Mary Ann" primary election law in La Crosse county has brought about a situation in the republican race for sheriff which promises readjustment only by means of court procedure. The county today finds itself unable to decide who shall be the republican candidate for the position, owing to errors in the returns of second choice votes in five of the precincts. The fight now lies between J. K. Johnson and George McDonald but the election board is unable to render a decision.

The official returns show that the first choice votes were distributed as follows: J. K. Johnson 588; George McDonald 597; A. A. Kennedy 534; W. H. Ristow 472. Under the provisions of the "Mary Ann" law, Ristow, receiving the lowest number of votes, was eliminated and his second choice votes distributed among the three remaining candidates. This failing to give any one a majority, Kennedy, the new lowest, was eliminated and his second choice votes added to the first choice votes of Johnson and McDonald.

Both Have Pluralities On first choice votes McDonald had a plurality of nine votes over Johnson but after adding the second choice votes Johnson's count exceeded McDonald's by nine. McDonald received 20 second choice votes and Johnson 38.

The returns from the towns of Campbell, Burns, Farmington, Greenfield and Hamilton showed 14 second choice votes for Johnson and 21 for McDonald, but owing to the failure of election clerks to specify the candidates from which the second choice votes were derived, the election board cannot count these votes, as the new law provides that only the second choice votes of the eliminated candidates can be added to the vote of the remaining candidates.

If these votes could be counted it would give Johnson a majority of two votes, but the members of the election board are unable to determine whether these votes came from Ristow and Kennedy first choice voters. If these votes are the sum total of second choice votes cast in the five precincts, it is possible that McDonald has a majority, but the only means of learning the facts is to open the sealed ballots, and there is no provision which authorizes any person to do so.

The board of canvassers may appeal to the secretary of state for a decision as to who has the right to open the sealed ballots for a recount or may petition the court for an order to open the ballots under the supervision of the precinct election inspectors.

WRONG MAN WAS LYNCHED BY MOB

Negro Hanged and Burned by West Virginians Now Believed to Be Innocent

GIRL IS SURE OF MISTAKE

Asserts Now that Man She Partly Identified Was Not Black Who Assaulted Her

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Sept. 7.—Governor William E. Glasscock today requested the Mercer county authorities to call a special term of court to investigate the lynching of Walter Johnson, a negro, who was lynched near Princeton Thursday afternoon in the belief that he had tried to attack Miss Nita White, 16, daughter of a railroad man.

The authorities today expressed the belief that an innocent man had been hanged. Officials of Fayette county declare today that Walter Johnson, the negro lynched Thursday night near Princeton, was innocent of the crime of criminally assaulting Miss Nita White, 16-year-old white girl. When the girl was first shown to Johnson she partially recognized him, but later she declared she did not believe he was the man. Officials of the county told this to the mob at the time, but they would not listen. Today it is declared Miss White is certain the negro lynched was not the right man and officials of the county have information which makes it almost certain the mob lynched the wrong man.

ITALY ROUSED BY STRIKERS' PLIGHT

Monster Strike Planned to Force Rome Into Helping the Lawrence Prisoners

ENGLISH LABOR INTERESTED

Demonstration for Ettore and Giovannetti Is Planned in London

ROME, Sept. 7.—As a means of forcing King Victor's government to make representations at Washington in behalf of the two Italians, Ettore and Giovannetti, imprisoned in Lawrence, Mass., on a murder charge growing out of the recent labor troubles there, syndicalists throughout Italy are organizing for a monster general strike, paralyzing industry all over the country. The Ettore and Giovannetti case has been causing the most intense feeling in Italy for some time. In parliament, Deputies Chiasa, a republican; Todrecci and Carene, socialists; Meda, a clerical, and Avonti, a socialist-democrat, recently demanded that the Rome government make the matter an international issue.

The newspapers have published columns of accounts of the case, radical and conservative journals alike declaring, substantially as La Tribune Illustrata put it, that Ettore and Giovannetti are "the victims of the capitalists who provoked the strike at Lawrence by terrible conditions."

In the Italian government's attitude there has apparently been no change since Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs Prince Decalea stated in parliament that the foreign office had confined itself to instructing the Italian consul in Boston to see that Ettore and Giovannetti were provided with able counsel and that they received a fair trial.

England Takes Hand. LONDON, Sept. 7.—An English "defense committee" was formed here today for Ettore and Giovannetti, the Italians, charged with responsibility, through their speeches, for the killing of a woman during the recent strike at Lawrence, Mass. Arrangements are being made for a big demonstration in Trafalgar square, after which it is to adopt resolutions of protest against the men's continued imprisonment. The resolutions will then be sent to American Ambassador Whitelaw Reid.

Haywood Foments Strike. NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—William D. Haywood, leader of the I. W. O., today was on his way to Chicago to enlist the aid of unions there in the proposed Ettore Giovannetti general strike, to be called for September 30, members of the Greater New York Industrial council of the I. W. O. were preparing for a great Ettore Giovannetti demonstration here, September 14. Circulars demanding that all workers join in a general strike of protest are being sent out to all the unions of the United States.

Plan Social Revolution. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 7.—The overthrow of the present system of society is the object of the strike planned by the I. W. O., according to National Organizer Grover Perry of San Francisco, who is in this city preparing for a big demonstration.

"We are not looking for industrial peace," said Perry, "nor will we be satisfied with the securing of a shorter working day, for which we intend to wage the coming battle. Nothing will entirely satisfy us except the abolishment of the present system of unfair wage system and the overthrow of the present system of society. The I. W. O. is a purely socialistic body and will neither rest nor sleep until its ideals have been attained."

NOTHING TO DO UNTIL TOMORROW-WE PICNIC

We are going on a picnic tomorrow. The big WE and the wee WE will be along, and there will be plenty of wieners and sitch. The wee WE will be the host, hence awe' w' carkin' care—The Tribune bunch is going on a picnic. It will be a small but select party, headed by an eight piece band, special musicians to The Tribune. The whole town is invited to be at the levee—Otto's boat house—at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, to see the start. The town can listen to the music and see the eats lugged aboard, but the town can't go. This is a strictly family celebration, also strictly stag. No one but the gentlemen who assist at the daily birth of The Tribune will be "among them present." The gang will go to Ferndale the day, where the editorial room will whale the tar out of the composing room indoor baseball, and all will be peace and quietude, so that we won't wake John Salzer's deer.

TO ASK PARDON FOR M'NAMARAS

Steffens Says Los Angeles Business Men Have Failed to Keep to Agreement

PROMISED UNIONS FAIRNESS

Says Confession of Dynamiters Was Not Made Until After Compact

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 7.—Declaring that he had not yet taken the matter up with the California labor leaders, but reiterating his assertion that an appeal for the pardon of James and John McNamara would certainly be made if the Los Angeles business interests fail to give labor "fair play" Lincoln J. Steffens today said he would personally circulate a petition asking Governor Johnson to liberate the McNamaras.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 7.—Greatest interest was aroused in labor circles here today by the statement of Lincoln Steffens, in Portland, that Governor Johnson will be asked to pardon the McNamara brothers, confessed dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times. Steffens declared that this action would certainly be taken unless the representatives of the business interests fulfill their part of a bargain made before the McNamaras pleaded guilty. Steffens asserted that a part of the bargain was the understanding that the business interests would give union labor a fair hearing and work for industrial peace.

PLAGUE KILLS HORSES

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 7.—Thoroughly alarmed by the fatality of all efforts by specialists of Nebraska and Kansas to check the spread of meningitis, which has killed three thousand horses in western Nebraska and more than twice that number in western Kansas in the past week, Governor Chester Aldrich today sent the following telegram to the department of agriculture at Washington: "Cerebro spinal meningitis of horses has spread over half of Nebraska. We need assistance from your department."

GOMPERS NAMES MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Names of four prominent labor leaders have been submitted to President Taft by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor for consideration of the places on the new industrial commission. Gompers refuses to disclose who his nominees are, but Vice President John Mitchell of the federation is one, it is generally believed.

SOLDIER KILLS MINER

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 7.—The first trouble in connection with martial law occurred today in the hills near Sharon, a mining village, when one of a group of men was shot and killed by George Long, a soldier of the state militia, after he had been fired upon.

GIRL LEADS RAID ON VICE RESORT

Miss Virginia Brooks at Head on U. S. Deputies Captures Alleged White Slavers

VAMPIRE WOMAN CONFESSES

Woman Accused as Murderess Tells Story of Wrongs from Arrested Men

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Henry Foss and Cornelius Moore, alleged vice leaders in graft-ridden West Hammond, Ill., were to be arraigned today before the United States commissioner on charges of violating the Mann white slave act. Foss and Moore, together with twelve other persons, were arrested late yesterday in a sensational raid on the Foss resort by a party of United States deputy marshals, led by Miss Virginia Brooks, who for two years has been conducting a strenuous campaign against graft and the social evil in West Hammond. The raid followed the testimony given by the "vampire woman," Mrs. Ethel Parker, alias "Frankie" Ford, when she was arraigned on a charge of murder. The woman admitted Foss had brought her from Crown Point, Ind., in violation of the white slave law, and is said to have made many serious admissions regarding the death of Messmaker. She will be further questioned by the coroner, state's attorney and United States district attorney today.

HIRAM JOHNSON TO SPEAK HERE

Vice Bull Moose to Open Roosevelt Campaign in La Crosse County

TO PLAN FOR RECEPTION

Meeting of Roosevelt Men Called for Monday; May Attend State Convention

Hiram Johnson, candidate for vice president on the bull moose ticket, governor of California, erstwhile La Follette supporter but among those who cast his political hat into the ring with Roosevelt when he broke with La Follette, will speak in La Crosse in the interests of the Roosevelt campaign next Thursday afternoon. The speech will be delivered from an automobile of carriage in Market Square at 4:30 in the afternoon.

A meeting of Roosevelt men has been called for Monday evening for the purpose of arranging for the entertainment of Governor Johnson while he is in La Crosse. The place of the meeting will be announced later. It is also planned to select delegates at this meeting to attend the state bull moose convention which will be held in Milwaukee next Wednesday. Governor Johnson will deliver the keynote speech at the state convention and according to local Roosevelt men it is probable that a state ticket will be formulated at the convention.

Donlan Roosevelt Manager

The local bull moose campaign is at present under the management of J. F. Donlan, 225 South Sixth street, who came here from Chicago last February. Mr. Donlan has undertaken to guide the Roosevelt campaign in this county at the request of Norman L. Baker, chairman of the provisional state bull moose committee, and Henry Cochems, chairman of the national speaking committee. Mr. Donlan, who has had considerable political experience in Cook county, the Illinois hotbed of politics, declared today that he has found evidence of a strong Roosevelt sentiment in La Crosse county.

"There is a strong Roosevelt undertone in this city and county," he said, "and the other two parties, in my opinion, will be given a surprise when the Roosevelt votes are counted at the polls here this fall. I have received much encouragement to go ahead with the campaign and have been given promises of substantial support. Many of the voters and politicians here are not saying much but they are thinking a lot. They are not satisfied with the deal Roosevelt got in the Chicago convention and the fight that has been made against him since."

To Send Delegates

"Three or four men have promised me that they will go as delegates to the Milwaukee convention next Wednesday providing we can get enough others to go to make a good representation. I shall be unable to go myself because I must arrange for Governor Johnson's speech here the next day."

Governor Johnson will arrive in La Crosse on the Milwaukee at 3:30 p. m. and will deliver his speech in Market Square an hour later. After his speech he will be given an auto ride about the city and will dine as the guest of the local Roosevelt men in time to make the 6:30 train.

WOULD BAR T. R. MEN

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 7.—That further steps to put the eight Roosevelt presidential electors off the republican ticket would certainly be taken and immediately, was the statement of R. D. Hite today, attorney for the Taft faction, who said it was his intention to appeal from United States Judge W. H. Sanborn's decision denying the injunction asked by the president's followers.

ATTACKS AGED LADY GETS 15 YEAR TERM

John Bartle, aged 40, Trempealeau, was sentenced to fifteen years in the state prison at Waupun by Judge E. C. Higbee this afternoon, following his plea of guilty to the charge of assault upon Elizabeth Ramsdam, 86 years old. According to the admission of Bartle and the story told by the aged woman, the defendant went to Mrs. Ramsdam's home a week ago in an intoxicated condition, and in order to procure the absence of her son, sent him after some groceries, saying that he wanted Mrs. Ramsdam to prepare a meal for him.

Scarcely had the son left the house when Bartle attacked the woman, who managed to fight him off and break away. She then ran into a bedroom, but was unable to close the door in time to prevent Bartle from entering. Turning upon him she again attempted to fight him off, but was unable to combat with his strength.

Mrs. Ramsdam was found in a serious condition by her son a few moments later and the authorities were notified of the crime. Bartle was arrested without resistance a few hours later.

MORE TROOPS TO PATROL BORDER

Army Officers Need Help in Keeping the Rebels on Mexican Side

REBEL RAIDERS ARE CAUGHT

Mexicans Reported Dead in Skirmish with United States Cavalry in Arizona

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 7.—Following a conference over the long distance with General Leonard Wood, President Taft today approved an order to be issued by Wood sending two more regiments of cavalry to the Mexican border. The regiments are now stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, and Fort Russell, Wyoming. They will leave at once.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Two more regiments of cavalry will probably receive orders within the next 24 hours to proceed to the Mexican border to help in maintaining the border control which has been seriously threatened by Mexican bandits crossing the line and invading American trade. Army officers in command of troops on the border sent urgent requests today to the war department for reinforcements. The order will not be issued, however, until approved by President Taft. This approval is now awaited.

Soldiers in Skirmish

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 7.—Following reports of three raids upon American soil by rebels near Hachita, N. M., Troop K, Third United States Cavalry, was today sent from Fort Bliss to reinforce the cavalry troop doing patrol duty. In the Hachita raids, 13 American soldiers and fifty rebels had a skirmish in which one rebel was wounded and captured, the reports here state. Twenty rebels later attempted to rescue the man captured, but were driven back into Mexico.

Five Rebels Killed

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 7.—American cowboys and United States troopers were patrolling the border in force today, following an engagement between thirteen troopers and 25 Mexicans. Five of the rebels are reported to have been killed and one wounded. The rebel bands were still threatening the border today and further trouble is expected.

The Mexicans crossed the American soil on the Long ranch. They were met by American troopers and ordered back and a general engagement followed.

TO ATTEND BANKERS' MEET.

E. M. Wing, vice president of the Batavian National bank, and R. C. Wempley, assistant cashier of the National Bank of La Crosse, together with their wives will leave for Detroit, Mich., tomorrow, where they will attend the annual convention of the National Bankers' association, which opens a week's sessions in Detroit Monday. Mr. Wing was nominated a member of the executive council of the association at the meeting of the nominating committee, which was held recently, and will be elected to that office next Thursday.

BOAT GOES OVER DAM; THREE DIE

APPLETON, Wis., Sept. 7.—Three people, Harold Schultz, 21, his mother, Mrs. Charles Schultz, 52, and a neighbor, Mrs. Frank Diener, 40, drowned about dusk Thursday night when the gasoline launch in which they had started for a pleasure ride was carried by the strong current in the swollen Fox river over the upper dam.

ANTIS COME TO FIGHT SUFFRAGE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 7.—The "antis" are coming to town. Almost before the close of the Ohio election the National Anti-Suffrage association was preparing to send its best Ohio workers into Wisconsin, according to Miss Flora Gapsen, executive secretary of the Political Equality league, who returned from Ohio yesterday.

FLOOD AT OCONTO BEGINS TO RECEDE

OCONTO, Wis., Sept. 7.—Flood conditions at Oconto show some improvement. The water is receding, although it is possible to travel about the city in boats. It is believed that the sewer will begin to carry off the water tomorrow and the flood will abate rapidly then.

STOMACH UPSET? SOUR? "CASCARETS"

Gently Cleanse and Regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

ST. PAUL ROADS UNITE ON THE SCHEME TO ERECT FIVE MILLION STRUCTURE SOON.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—A new Union depot, costing between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, with an outlay of $4,000,000 more for land and trackage, will be built in St. Paul at once. Presidents and vice presidents of seven roads coming into St. Paul agreed on this yesterday in the office of James J. Hill.

The engineers of all the railroads will meet in St. Paul Monday morning to go over the details of the plans submitted by Mr. Hill to the other railroad men. The plans submitted by Mr. Hill were accepted by the other roads, and only a few changes likely will be made by the engineers.

DOGS CATCH MAN ALLEGED MURDERER

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 7.—Trailed through the mountains by a bloodhound, Paul Manatto, the young Italian charged with the murder of a saloonkeeper near Cambria, Wyo., last month, and who escaped from jail at Sundance four days ago, was caught by Sheriff Noonan just south of here yesterday and brought to the local jail.

CAR QUARANTINED SMALLPOX IS FOUND

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 7.—The discovery of a case of smallpox on the southbound Great Western passenger train last night resulted in strict quarantine regulations being enforced on the car at Zumbrota, and the detaining of the car in this city.

Dr. Harry Wood, Rochester's new health officer, happened to be on the train, and was responsible for enforcing the necessary regulations.

COON VALLEY GETS ELECTRIC LIGHTING

COON VALLEY, Wis., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—After an agitation that has been on for months, Coon Valley is to have an electric lighting system. Fighting Phil Sheridan In the Shenandoah

This Campaign Was One of the Most Brilliant of the War. Sheridan Lost 17,000 Men, But Destroyed Early's Army and Saved Washington.

Thrilling Account of the Battles at Winchester and Fisher's Hill, Where the Confederates Were Defeated; Early's Surprise Attack at Cedar Creek; Sheridan's Ride from Winchester and Rout of the Confederates—Fully Described and Illustrated in

Section 14

Brady War Photographs

(Complete With Elson's New History of the Civil War)

IN THE latter battle it was that General Sheridan dashed along the front of his lines in personal charge of the attack. It was the final charge. The Union cavalry swept in behind the fleeing troops of Early and sent the Confederate army "whirling up the Valley."

In order to prevent further raids upon Washington, Sheridan devastated the valley so thoroughly that it was said that "if a crow wants to fly down the Shenandoah, he must carry his provisions with him."

Besides this interesting and thrilling narrative of the last conflicts in the Shenandoah Valley, Section 14 also contains the complete story of the Attack On Petersburg

and the failure of a plan by which Grant expected to capture the city. The photographs are unusually interesting. In them, we see General Jubal A. Early, the Confederate Raider;

The Capitol at Washington, as it looked in 1863;
Three Scenes Inside Fort Totten;
The Portraits of Six Soldiers in the Civil War Who Later Became U. S. Presidents;
What Eight Thousand Pounds of Powder Did;
General Mahone, "the Hero of the Crater"; Louisa M. Alcott, as a Nurse—and

A Beautifully Colored Frontispiece—Ready for Framing

Among the other war-time pictures in this section is one of "Fighting Phil" Sheridan wearing the same hat that he waved to rally his soldiers on that famous ride from "Winchester, twenty miles away." As he reined up his panting horse on the turnpike at Cedar Creek he received salutes from two future Presidents of the United States. The position on the left of the road was held by Colonel Rutherford B. Hayes, who had succeeded after the rout of the Eighth Corps in the darkness of the early morning in rallying some fighting groups of his own brigade, while on the right stood Major William McKinley, gallantly commanding the remnant of his fighting regiment, the Twenty-third Ohio—both of whom are pictured as they looked in those stirring days. Other photographs are:

Protecting Locomotives from the Confederate Raiders;
One of Washington's Defenders;
Entrance to Washington from the South;
The Famous Chain Bridge;
Long Bridge and the Capital Across the Broad Potomac;
Where Lincoln Was Under Fire at Fort Stevens;
Men of the Third Massachusetts Heavy Artillery in Fort Stevens; Company K, Third Massachusetts Heavy Artillery;
A House Near Washington Struck by One of Early's Shells;
General Sheridan's Horse, "Winchester";
Fort Mahone—"Fort Damnation"—Rives' Salient—Traverses Against Cross-fire—Gracie's Salient and Other Forts Along the Ten Miles of Defenses, and An Afternoon Concert at the Officers' Quarters, Harewood Hospital, near Washington.

Seeing a real war is, for most of us, impossible. Here, for the first and only time, a real war is shown from beginning to end in 16 sections at a trifling cost of 10c each. In these sections of Brady's Civil War Photographs and Elson's New History, you see no epic and span Fourth of July parade. Instead you look upon the activities of 4,000,000 ragged, unshaven men, to whom death is a matter of course. Here you feel the thrill of the battle and the charge, the horror of the hospital and the restless jostling of the camp.

Cut Out War Souvenir Coupon

which appears every week and bring or send it to this office with 10 cents to cover necessary expenses such as cost of material, handling, clerk hire, etc., and get your copy of Section 14 or any one other section you desire.

We have secured exclusive rights for our territory to distribute these long-lost Brady War Pictures, illustrating Elson's History of the Civil War, and take this method of placing the full set of 16 sections in reach of every home, no matter how limited the means.

The series naturally begins with Bull Run, that first great encounter of armed troops of the North and South. If you have not received this Section, or any of the others that follow it, cut out the coupon this week and we'll supply you with either or all of the first fourteen sections for 10c each and the one coupon.

OF LA CROSSE
FOR LA CROSSE

In its "Home Products Edition" this paper proposed to conduct a campaign to cover an entire year having for its purpose educational effort in behalf of the great truth that prosperity and home trade go together.

Some cities have become great without a fair percentage of home patronage. But the AVERAGE city will not, for the average resources exclusive of home patronage are insufficient to build up substantial prosperity. We believe, on the contrary, that this is a fact:

Every city that enjoys home patronage equal to more than 80 per cent of the local demand for available local goods is a prosperous and a growing city.

In other words, we have the key to positive success right here within our city.

The cracker company exacted a promise of home support before it built its new factory. Secure in this pledge, it entered into competition with one of the most perfect monopolies in America, and IT succeeded. Enterprise and skill forced the products of this company up on the outside markets, but what a splendid wedge to the trade was that solid home support.

Find any factory hesitating about coming here, and deliver to it a positive pledge of the exclusive patronage of 30,000 people, and—will it come?

But we don't give that promise.
The fact is that the word goes out that, as a city, we do NOT patronize home trade as much as we should.

We have wanted access to our stove factory, and we still want a good road to our rubber mills. The city government is bickering with the button works about a matter that is in fact an evidence of the value of that plant. The plow company had to struggle for ground on which to build a foundry that is a great industry in itself. The Listman mill was threatened with the loss of a building projecting upon a useless street. There has not been officially or individually the tendency to encourage home industry that there should be. We look forward to a new spirit in these matters.

MR. LUSH DIFFERS WITH BLOODGOOD

Following is an editorial in which the Milwaukee Sentinel displays sincerity as great as that in its warning that if "Ikey" Karel is nominated "WE'LL have an awful job to beat him."

A little difference of opinion crops out in the interviews from Charles K. Lush and Wheeler B. Bloodgood, bull moose organizers, touching the construction to be put on the silence of Gov. McGovern, who, though running on the republican ticket, declines to divulge the color of his politics.

Mr. Lush, who is a pretty resolute and sharp spoken character, bluntly calls on the governor to come out from under the bed and show himself.

His refusal to do so Mr. Lush proposes to construe as presumptive evidence that the governor is republican and regular, and therefore necessarily for Taft. With a neat sense for phrases, Mr. Lush calls it an "affirmation of silence" to that effect on the governor's part.

But Mr. Bloodgood thinks otherwise.

The governor's "affirmation of silence" he interprets as constructive proof that the artful dodger is for Roosevelt, only he carries his red bandanna shame-facedly in an inside pocket where republicans can't see it.

So the difference of opinion between these bull moose authorities leaves us where we were at the start: in a fog of doubt as to the alleged republican candidate's real politics.

Mr. Lush's theory that his "affirmation of silence" must be taken to signify that he is a republican de-facto will hardly be satisfactory to republican voters who are in a quandary as to whether they have a republican candidate for governor or not, and who object seriously to voting for a third party candidate or a socialist candidate in disguise. The trouble with the "silence" is that it may be taken as giving consent to both and even all parties; for some think that Mr. McGovern favors Wilson, and still others that he leans to Debs.

On the whole, evidence seems to favor the Bloodgood theory.

The governor's private conferences with Roosevelt and the bull moose organizers here, his association with Mr. Cochems in the "throw down" for Mr. La Follette at Chicago, all seem to point to the soundness of Mr. Bloodgood's intimation that the "Roosevelt followers feel that the governor is with them;" and if such be the case, he assuredly has no business to be on the republican ticket or to expect republican support.

Then, again, Mr. Lush must be at least as good a judge of bull moose sentiment as Mr. Bloodgood is.

So the governor's duty to the party and candidate he really supports is plain enough: he owes it to them and to his own credit for real convictions and the courage of them to speak out, and not continue to present the sorry spectacle of a man afraid or ashamed of the sound of his own opinions whenever it requires a little backbone to declare them.

FEMALES OF VOTING AGE

A preliminary statement has just been issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census, giving the number of women of voting age in the six states in which they have the right to vote in all elections.

In this statement the number of such women is distributed according to color, nativity and parentage, for each state as a whole and for each of its cities of over 25,000 inhabitants, as shown by the returns of the thirteenth decennial census, taken as of April 15, 1910.

The statistics were prepared under the direction of William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population in the census bureau and are subject to revision.

In giving the figures it should be understood that they do not represent the number of actual women voters, but rather the number who at the time the census was taken in April, 1910, were eligible to vote from the standpoint of age alone, aside from any qualifications based upon naturalization, education, length of residence, or considerations of a like nature; and furthermore, that no account is taken of those who become of age since April, 1910, or of those who may have died since that date.

Distinction is made in the statement between white females of native and foreign birth, respectively, and also for the native white with respect to parentage. Those having both parents native of the United States are classed as of native parentage; those having either both parents born abroad or one parent native and one parent born abroad are classed as of foreign or mixed parentage.

Taken altogether it is an interesting summary.

The whole number of women in these six states taken together who were of voting age in 1910 was 1-346,925, of whom 654,784, or 48.6 per cent, were native whites of native parentage; 323,925, or 24.7 per cent, native whites of foreign or mixture parentage; 323,925, or 24.7 per cent, foreign born whites; 13,488, or 1 per cent, negroes; and 17,046 or 1.3 per cent "all other"—that is, Indians, and Chinese, Japanese and other Asiatics.

The Milwaukee Journal wants to know how progressive republican papers can expect progressive democrats to support McGovern against Karel if they (the progressive republicans) do not support Wilson against Taft. That is a fair question, and vice versa.

From Paris comes the announcement that electricity can relieve

Old Love Letters

When ma gets sore at dad,
When she is good and mad;
When they have quarreled all day
And there's no more to say.
When he seems to have won
And has her on the run,
She always has in store
One argument, no more,
Which makes him grab his hat
And leave so quickly that There's no time for "good-bys."
As for his car he flies.
She opens up a trunk,
Extracts a lot of junk,
He wrote to her away
Back to their courting day.
She starts to read the gush,
The drivel and the slush.
But ere three lines she's read
Her audience has fled
In agonizing fear.
He cannot stay and hear.
That's how she's had her way
For many and many a day.
The moral's easy quite,
A chap should 'phone, not write.

Found a Stranger

Pastors and church members are often advised to show more effusiveness in welcoming strangers to public services. A North London minister recollected this the other Sunday. Coming down from the pulpit after the evening sermon he found a stranger in the person of a fair-haired Scotch girl, and, greeting with the cordial handclasp, said—"I am very glad to see you. I want you to feel at home here. I'd like to become acquainted with you. If you'll give your address I'll call and see you." "Thank you," she replied,
"but I have a lad already."

The Easy Way

A cynical bachelor at a meeting of the newly-formed Authors' union in New York whispered to George Ade:
"It's easy to win a woman's heart.
All you have to do is to give her all the money she wants."
"And do you call that easy?" said
Mr. Ade with a frown.

The Sculptor

Madam A. mother of three marriageable daughters—"Really, I don't know whether to send my girls to the seashore or some inland watering-place. They are very much run down." Mr. B. (candid old boy)
—"Well, I would advise sulphur springs for a change. Sulphur, you know, is one of the principal requisites in match-making."

What He Said

"I understand that you called on the plaintiff. Is that so?" "Yes," replied the witness. "What did he say?" The attorney for the defense jumped to his feet and objected that the conversation could not be admitted in the evidence. A half-hour's argument followed, and the judges retired to their private room to consider the point. An hour later they filed into the court room and announced that the question might be put. "Well, what did the plaintiff say?" "He weren't at home, sir," came the answer.

Not Easy For Him

"It's easy," began Mr. Jolley, "to obey the Biblical injunction when one's neighbor is a pretty girl."
"But surely," replied the bright girl next door, "it isn't easy for you."

"Oh, yes; I refer to the command to 'love thy neighbor.'"

"Yes, but the command is really
'love thy neighbor as thyself.'"
Catholic Standard and Times.

Her Pronounced Opinion

"Are you in favor of the recall?"
I asked the enthusiastic, but not well-posted suffragist.
"I surely am!" she exclaimed. "I can't imagine anything more exasperating than for a woman not to be allowed to recall her vote—why, it would be even worse than to be deprived of the privilege of exchange-ing goods she had bought at a sale."
—Satire.

Ways and Means

"Uncle Pete, why don't you get married?" "Why, you see, I have got an old mudder, an I hab to do for her; yet see, sah, an' if I don't buy her shoes an' stockings she wouldn't get none. Now, if I was to get married, I would hab to buy dem things for my wife, and dat would take der shoes an' stockings right out of me mudder's mouf."

All the papers were lowered and all conversation stopped as each man turned and scanned the newcomer with an interest the Watermelon modestly felt was caused by some event other than his own entry. He surmised that James had probably been there before him, and the next words of the barber confirmed his surmise.

That dapper little man scanned him coldly, from the rakish tip of his shabby hat to the nondescript covering on his feet which from force of habit he called shoes, and spoke with darkly veiled sarcasm:

"I suppose you are a guest from the hotel up to the lake?"

The Watermelon grinned. He recognized James' favorite role. "No," said he cheerfully, "I'm John D., and me car is waiting without."

"A guest up to the hotel," repeated the barber, upon whom James had evidently made a powerful impression. "Just back from a two weeks' camping and fishing trip—"

"No," said the Watermelon, "I don't like fishing, baiting the hook is such darned hard work."

"Just back," went on the barber, still quoting, his soul yet rankling with the deceit of man. "Look like a tramp, probably—"

"Am one," grinned the Watermelon.

"And you thought you would get a shave as you passed through the village, wouldn't dare let your wife see you?"

"Say," interrupted the Watermelon wearily, "what are you giving us? Did any one bunco you out of a shave with that lingo?"

"Yes," snapped the barber.

"About an hour ago a feller blew in here and said all that. He talked well and I shaved him. He said he had sent his camping truck on to the hotel by his team; he had stopped off to get a shave. I shaved him and then he found he hadn't any money in his old clothes—but he would send it right down—oh, yes, the moment he got to the hotel, it ain't come and Harry, there, says there ain't no one up to the hotel like that. Harry's the porter."

"Sure," said Harry importantly.

"I passed the feller as I was coming down and there ain't any one like him to the hotel."

The Watermelon laughed heartily.
"A hobo, eh? Bunkoed you for fair. You fellows oughtn't to be so dog-goned easy. Get wise, get wise!"

"We are wise now," said the barber ruefully, and added sternly,
"if you want a shave, you've got to show your money first."

END PRISON FLOGGING

SIXTY LEADERS OF MICHIGAN PENITENTIARY REVOLT ARE WHIPPED BUT BRUTALITY IS DENIED

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 7.—With the whipping of eight convicts today, making a total of about sixty flogged because they participated in the recent riots at Jackson prison, the "paddle" was laid aside. Conditions throughout the prison have become normal and the only evidence left of the recent uprising of the convicts is hundreds of broken window panes which have not been repaired. Warden Simpson today issued a statement in which he emphatically denied that the mutinous convicts punished was brutal. He denied that blood had been drawn or that brine-soaked paddles had been used. He also stated that none had fainted from the flogging.

FRENCH MANEUVERS ON

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Under Gen. Gallieni, commanding the Blue army of the west and Gen. Marion, directing the Red army of the east, the concentration today of the biggest body of troops assembled in France since Czar Nicholas II of Russia reviewed 100,000 men at Rheims in 1902. The two forces which will participate in the grand maneuvers beginning Monday will number only 10,000 less than the one reviewed by the czar.

STRAUSS MOOSE CHOICE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The feeling of elation that accompanied the acclamatory nomination for governor of Oscar S. Strauss of New York, remained with the bull moose until the state convention adjourned early today.

SOCIETY

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

Last evening the parlors of the Young Women's Christian association were the scene of a most enjoyable affair, when the association entertained at a reception for the teachers of the city. The affair was in charge of the student committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Miss Bertha Shuman is chairman, and in the receiving line were the members of the committee, the secretaries of the association and members of the board of directors. There were about sixty teachers from the public schools, the high school and the normal present.

A musical program, including instrumental music by Miss Helen Jacobson, a violin solo by Miss Vera Anderson and vocal selections by Misses Lena Weimar and Marie Novak, was a pleasant feature of the occasion.

The parlors of the association were made attractive by a profusion of autumn flowers, and the evening was an enjoyable one for all present.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES

There was a pleasant gathering of little folks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Dewey in honor of the fifth birthday of their son, Chester, and Enola Crosssett whose birthday will occur next week. After enjoying themselves with games during the afternoon a supper was served on the lawn at six o'clock. The little guests were Ella, Louise, Alfred and Willie Blakely, Harland Crosssett, Dorothy Fox, Willard Fox, Mary and Henry Watts, Johnny and Burnham Goetzinger.

Miss Dorothy Draper entertained at a coffee Friday afternoon to a few of her friends in honor of her tenth birthday. The young guests brought their fancy work with which they busied themselves till refreshments were served. Miss Julia Libby of New Lisbon was an out of town guest.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig May celebrated their silver wedding yesterday afternoon at their home, 2023 West Avenue south. There were between thirty-five and forty guests present. The Ladies' society of the German M. E. church were present and assisted in the entertaining. Rev. J. H. Klaus, the pastor, made some congratulatory remarks and presented the bride and groom with the many gifts which were showered upon the host and hostess. Remarks were also made by the district superintendent, Rev. B. C. Brandenburg. Mrs. W. J. Habrich gave a recitation after which refreshments were served.

ART DEMONSTRATION

A free demonstration of stenciling and Mexican art work is attracting much attention at the Park Store. This is not the ordinary style of stenciling but real art work. It is washable and will endure for ages. A competent demonstrator, Mrs. Lueders, has charge of the work and she is direct from the manufacturer and thoroughly understands the business.

RECEPTION FOR NORMALITES

The third annual reception given Friday evening by the Young People's Christian Union of St. Paul's Universalist church to the faculty and students of the La Crosse state normal was an event long to be remembered. The first part of the evening's entertainment was enjoyed in the main auditorium of the church where an excellent program of vocal and instrumental music and readings was presented. Mr. Leland Widrick executed several delightful numbers at the pipe organ. Then Mr. Eugene Luening, who is studying for grand opera in Chicago, rendered a baritone solo, responding to an encore. Miss Elsa Halik followed with a reading, of special interest for the occasion and was compelled to appear the second time. Miss Helen Burke in an easy and charming manner next appeared with two vocal solos. Miss Julia Hoffman at the piano. Miss Florence Hermann, who has but recently returned from a year's study of the violin in Norway, appeared for the first time. The audience was enraptured by her numbers, in which she displayed remarkable development in skill and technique, and revealed the natural talent and unusual appreciation she has for the violin. Miss Hoffman accompanied Miss Hermann. Mr. Emil Niemeyer in his characteristic style sang a baritone solo and responded to a hearty encore. George R. Longbrake briefly spoke words of welcome to the guests and Prof. E. L. Long responded with appropriate witticisms and pointed out the value of the churches to the student life. At this point the evening's entertainment was continued in the commodious social rooms of the church, about two hundred and fifty participating in the happy festivities as arranged. The church parlors were most attractively decorated with scores of college and university pennants and garden flowers.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Miss Carrie Nast left today for her home at Fond du Lac to attend the wedding of her sister.

Miss Margaret Lawler has gone to Sherburn, Minn., where she has accepted a position as teacher in the schools there.

Miss Julia Libby of New Lisbon is the guest of her cousin, Dorothy Draper.

QUEST OF LIFE FAILS.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 7.—The remains of John Morrow, 43, a wealthy miner and merchant of Ophir, Alaska, were shipped today to Seattle, Wash., after a hopeless battle for life. Nearly two months ago Morrow was placed on a stretcher at Ophir and began a long journey to the local hospital in the hope that his health might be restored. He was fifty days on the trip, unable to leave a stretcher. He died yesterday.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness during our late bereavement in the death of our son, Charlie Gaede. Especially do we thank Rev. Lemke, Third Ward Aid society, the members of Union No. 199, and all who sent floral offerings.

ACTRESS DIES POOR

CARRIE MEYERS, PET OF CHICAGO, DIES IN BRIDEWELL, DOPE FIEND AND PAUPER

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Carrie Meyers, twenty years ago the pet of Chicago and the toast of millionaires, will be buried by the county tomorrow unless one of the countless men who whined and dined in her youth, appears to claim her body. "Beauty Carrie," as she was known, died in the Bridewell today, a victim of the drug habit.

When little more than a child the dead woman was premier danseuse with the Black Crook company. She won national fame as a dancer. On September 4 she was arrested and sent to the Bridewell, where she died, begging for "just one pinch of the hop."

Legal, decrease $972,000.
Cash reserve, required, decrease, $8,542,850.
Cash surplus, decrease, $1,802,050.
A year ago there was an actual surplus, including trust companies of $23,264,100 and two years ago a surplus in banks alone of $28,480,225.

(Copyright, 1912, by New York Evening Post)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The day's stock market deserves no special comment; it was altogether of a piece with the inert and meaningless markets of the past week or two. The news, such as it was, had an entirely favorable bearing. Abroad, it comprised the remarkable developments in the international grain trade situation, set forth in the cable on another page. At home, the fortnightly "idle car report" was extremely interesting; it distinctly bore out the recent predictions of such enormous rush of grain and merchandise over the country's transportation lines this autumn, as would leave the railways unable to handle without delay, the shippers' applications. The present figures show that in the last two weeks of August, the total of side tracked cars in the United States had fallen 34,000 to the very low aggregate of 9,750 as compared with a total of 84,500 a year ago, and of 50,700 at the same date in 1910. The present "idle car surplus," is the lowest since end of October, 1910, and, with the huge spring wheat crop shortly to be moved, the next fortnightly reports will undoubtedly show a shortage of facilities. There has been no such shortage since the autumn of 1909 when the two reports of October 27 and November 10 showed deficiency in supply of 5,740 and 3,286 cars respectively. There has been no other shortage since the early summer of 1907. The present trend of things is absolutely unmistakable witness to the scope of the trade revival.

WILL ORGANIZE ORCHESTRA

Musicians at School to Form Band; New Assistant Pleases Audience

Taking the roll of the normal school students by counties yesterday at that institution resulted in learning that there are representatives in the school from almost every county in the western half of the state of Wisconsin, and many from the other sections. Besides this there are about twenty-five enrolled from other states, which is an excellent indication of the popularity of the La Crosse normal. The attendance at this time is 325, of whom ninety-five are boys. This is the best record in the history of the school, exceeding last year's mark by thirty-five.

Miss Cora Vandewater, assistant in music, delighted the student body Wednesday when she favored them with two vocal numbers. Miss Vandewater won a warm place in the hearts of her audience at once by her pleasing personality and interpretation. Her voice is a rich contralto of wide range and power and her coming to the normal school is most welcome.

Miss Shorma rendered two violin selections in the chapel Thursday morning in a most artistic manner. She gets a beautiful tone from her instrument and her playing was of a very high standard.

Miss Harriet B. Oltman, supervisor of music, will return to her work Monday and in the morning has promised to sing for the students.

President F. A. Cotton has issued a call for students who play musical instruments in order that a brass band and an orchestra can be started. Many have been anxious to join such organizations and some splendid work is anticipated in this department.

Wife of Millionaire Newspaper Publisher Dying at Home in Bar Harbor

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 7.—Mrs. John R. McLean, wife of the newspaper publisher of Washington and Cincinnati and owner of the Washington Gas Light company, is at the point of death at her summer home here. She was so low at daylight that her son, Edward Beale McLean and her daughter-in-law, who was Miss Evelyn Walsh, daughter of the Denver and Washington multi-millionaire, were summoned to her bedside to await the end. Her husband is with her.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO COUNTY COURT.

State of Wisconsin, County Court La Crosse County, ss.—In Probate. Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the County Court, to be held in and for said County, at the Court House, in the City of La Crosse, in said County, on the 2nd Tuesday, being the 10th day of September, A. D. 1912, at ten o'clock A. M., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of F. W. Fox to admit to probate the last will and testament of Wilhelmina Runckel, late of the City of La Crosse, in said County of La Crosse, deceased.

Dated August 6, 1912.

By order of the Court,
JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.

BOB AFTER COLONEL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Senator La Follette refused today to discuss Col. Roosevelt's declaration that "unless La Follette gets in line for the progressive party he will stamp himself a reactionary of the deepest dye," but he let it be known that he will soon contribute to the anti-Roosevelt literature of the presidential campaign some of the stoutest verbal attacks that T. R. will encounter between now and election day.

GOVERNMENT TO HOLD A HEARING

Channel Question to be Discussed September 26 at Hall in Dresbach

A public hearing for the purpose of considering questions relating to the steamboat channel in the Mississippi river in front of Dakota and Dresbach will be held by representatives of the United States war department in Dresbach, September 26. The meeting will be held in Central hall at 11 a. m. This was the announcement received by Congressman John J. Esch from Major C. Keller of Rock Island today.

The meeting was called in answer to the petition which was recently sent to the department at Washington by the citizens of the two up-river towns. The call for the meeting together with the recent orders for a resurvey of the channel is taken by several of the interested parties to mean that the channel may be changed back to its old course on the Minnesota side of the river in front of the two towns, providing they can show the war department that the towns have suffered any considerable damage by the moving of the channel away from their shore.

Because of the heat of the controversy which has raged for more than a year between the property owners of Dresbach and Dakota and the government officials, it is anticipated that the meeting will be of unusual interest to all the towns on the river for many miles and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Necessity The Mother of Invention

This store grew out of the needs of the present day. You see old standards shattered and brighter and better ones established. Nearly every day we hear it: "I was told to come here; that this is a reliable place." A higher ethical culture in business, to demonstrate by our daily work the difference between the merely shrewd and smart shop-keeper and the really fine and splendid merchant.

"BUGS" RAYMOND DIES IN CHICAGO

Erratic Baseball Pitcher Expires from Alcoholism in Cheap Hotel

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Arthur L. (Bugs) Raymond, baseball's most eccentric character, was "unconditionally released" by the hand of death here today. His constitution undermined by excessive use of alcohol, the one-time diamond star succumbed to the heat and was found dead in his bed in a South Clark street hotel at noon. His wife and one child, who survive him, live in this city.

Raymond's career as a baseball pitcher was at once the most romantic and remarkable in the history of the game. Born in Pensacola, Fla., 38 years ago, he learned the pressman's trade and worked at it until he was 19 years old, when he played his first game of professional ball with Appleton, Wis. Later he played with Rockford, Ill., Racine, Wis., Omaha and Waterloo, Iowa.

In 1904 he was sold to Detroit, who "farmed" him to Atlanta. From Atlanta he went to Jackson, Miss., and Charleston, S. C.

Charleson sold Raymond to the St. Louis Cardinals for $1,500. Later "Bugs" figured in the three-cornered trade between New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis, by which Roger Bresnahan went to manage the Cardinals.

In New York Raymond's appetite for "John Barleycorn" got the better of his pitching ability and McGraw farmed him out. He went south with the Giants at the beginning of last season, but was unconditionally released before the season opened, because, as he expressed it, "he simply could not keep sober."

This summer he played semi-professional ball and worked at his trade in Chicago.

NAGEL BLOCKS M'VEAGH.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—It became known today that Secretary of the Treasury MacVeach and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel were at cross-purposes in the customs re-organization plan. Congress gave MacVeach power to discontinue all offices that he saw fit and he ordered the closing of all offices operated at a loss to the government. Secretary Nagel holds that some of these offices will have to be retained to carry out the government's navigation laws.

GIRL SHOCKED TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Zoe Priddy, 18, of Cartersville, Ill., is dead, Lulu Johnson, Galesburg, 16, probably fatally hurt, and Vida Thompson, 15, also of Galesburg, is slightly burned as the result of contact with the third rail of one of Chicago's interurban lines early today.

HURT BY AUTO

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 6.—George Conrad, formerly of Rock Island, Ill., and W. B. Pettijohn of Terre Haute, Ind., were injured, the latter seriously, when their motorcycle and an automobile driven by two negroes collided here today.

FORENSIC SEASON OPENS AT SCHOOL

Literary Societies at High School Hold First Meetings; Officers Installed

The literary societies of the high school opened for the season last night with some very interesting debates and talks. Both the Wendell-Phillips and the Lincoln-Douglas Debating societies had inauguration of officers and their new presidents gave their inaugural addresses.

The Lincoln-Douglas society is at the height of the most prosperous and successful year it has ever witnessed in its career. The members are all enthusiastic and are willing to pull with their new president, Will Wagner, and the rest of the officers to make the season even more successful than that of last year. Out of the seven men who represented the high school in interscholastic debate the Lincoln-Douglas had six of its members on the teams. Two of the men who represented the school in the district and league oratorical contests were members of the Lincoln-Douglas. Two of its former members were on the Dartmouth intercollegiate oratorical and debate teams. Howard Jones, one of the society's former presidents had great success in winning the state normal school oratorical contest and second in his interstate. These are some of the things the members of the society have done with the training that they have obtained in this society.

The Lincoln-Douglas promises even greater things for the coming year as they have the members with the pluck and scrap who will fight to place the local high school on the forensic map of the state as well as the high school athletes have placed it on the athletic map.

Young But Strong

The Wendell-Phillips is a young society and has not shown as conspicuously as has the Lincoln-Douglas, but it has as a member Guy Jolivet who won the second place in the high school oratorical contest of the state. The Wendell-Phillips have a number of members who are showing a lot of promise and with a little more encouragement which is greatly lacking in the local high school ought to prove a great contender for honors also.

A noticeable fact at the local high school is that the authorities do not appear to give the forensic line of work the push that it ought to have in proportion to the enthusiasm aroused for athletics. It is easy enough to arouse an athlete's interest for the various teams but it is not easy for a man to plug away at an oration for debate for several months and then for a brief fifteen minutes appear before a straggling audience. The forensic men at the high school do not want the authorities to let up on arousing enthusiasm for athletics for they are just as enthusiastic over football and basketball and track and baseball as anyone.

MISS CHRISTY VISITING HERE

Miss Mary W. Christy, a graduate nurse, is visiting at the home of her brother, Rev. W. P. Christy. Miss Christy recently held the position of night superintendent at the Passavant Hospital, Chicago, which position she leaves to engage in private nursing at Dayton, Ohio. While in La Crosse Miss Christy will be pleased to confer with young women who contemplate entering a training school for nurses.

AWAY WITH CATARRH A FILTHY DISEASE

A Safe Old-fashioned Remedy Quickly Relieves All Distressing Symptoms.

If you are subject to frequent colds, or if you have any of the distressing symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, profuse discharge from the nose, sores in the nose, phlegm in the throat causing hawking and spitting, dull pain in the head or ringing in the ears, just anoint the nostrils or rub the throat or chest with a Little Ely's Cream Balm, and see how quickly you will get relief.

In a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the Balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and your friends by constantly hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it impairs your sense of taste, smell and hearing and poisons your whole system. In a short time you can be completely cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic Balm does not fool you by short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank poison, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, making you proof against colds and catarrh.

One application will convince you, and a 50 cent bottle will generally cure the worst case of catarrh. It is guaranteed. Get it from your druggist today.

SUFFRAGISTS INVADE BALMORAL

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. 7.—Balmoral castle, one of the king's residences was visited supposedly by suffragettes during the night, as was discovered today by signs of the callers activities.

Painted on the beautiful memorial fountain in front of the palace, was the explanation: "The cabinet ministers are responsible for our present actions."

Most Englishmen are more horrified at this invasion of the royal premises than at any previous display of suffragette militancy.

WISCONSIN SUFFRAGISTS, UNDISMAYED BY OHIO RESULTS, START
IN EARNEST FIGHT WHICH WILL CLOSE WITH POLLS ON NOV. 5

Miss Harriet Grim, Mrs. R. M. LaFollette and Mrs. Ella S. Stewart.

Undismayed by the result in Ohio, where woman suffrage was turned down by a big majority in the recent election, Wisconsin suffragists have started in earnest their fight for the ballot, which will not be closed until the closing of the polls on November 5, when the suffrage amendment will be submitted to a vote of the people.

Many prominent speakers are taking part in the campaign. Among them are Miss Harriet Grim and Mrs. Ella R. Stewart of Illinois, and Mrs. R. M. LaFollette, wife of the Wisconsin senator. Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Miss Margaret Haley and Miss Virginia Brooks of Chicago will also speak.

OUR NEIGHBORS THE SPANISH AMERICANS

(By Charles Stelzle)

In the southwest section of the United States, there are 800,000 so-called "Spanish-Americans," who, by the way, are neither Spanish nor American. Their forefathers lived in California, New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Utah and Nevada, and it was then their own land. The entire territory was originally Spanish, then Mexican, and finally it came under the American flag. Many of us wonder why these Spanish-Americans are not as loyal to the United States as most of us think we are. When an Englishman comes to America, we are out of patience with him if he does not immediately take steps to become naturalized. But when an American settles in England and becomes a citizen of his adopted country, we call him an "Anglo-maniac" and a renegade. What a nation of egotists we Americans are!

Now the country in which these Mexicans live is still to them their native land—a part of Mexico. The Americans are looked upon as intruders and as an alien people. The very strength and success of the American is a source of resentment to his Spanish fellow-citizen. We seem to forget that there is a native pride which must be overcome before this "alien" population, long native to the soil, and also an immigrant population, can become loyal American citizens.

Midway between North and South America and on the great line of travel from Europe to the Pacific via the Panama canal, is Porto Rico; about half the size of New Jersey and about 105 miles long by 35 miles wide; mountainous in the center with a flat rim around its sea-coast. It has a population of about 1,200,000. Its history—like all countries with which Spain has had to do—is one of romance and bloodshed and tyranny. The Porto Ricans themselves are industrious and law-abiding and intelligent. The island is 1,000 miles from Havana, 1,200 miles from Panama, 1,420 miles from New York and 1,650 miles from the mouth of the Amazon. On account of its great agricultural resources it was called by the Spaniards "Porto Rico"—the rich port.

The total area of Porto Rico including the adjacent and dependent islands is 3,435 square miles. The average number of persons to the square mile in 1910 was 325.5, and in 1899, 277.5. The urban territory of Porto Rico in 1910—that is the places of 2,500 and over—contained 224,624 inhabitants, or 20.1 per cent of the total population; while 893,392 inhabitants, or 79.9 per cent lived in rural territory. The urban territory as it existed in 1899 contained 138,703 inhabitants, or 14.6 per cent of the total population; while 814,540 inhabitants, or 85.4 per cent lived in rural territory.

About 100 miles south of Florida is Cuba, the "Pearl of the Antilles"—730 miles long, with an area nearly as great as Pennsylvania or Ohio. It has a population of 2,048,980. The number of persons ten years of age and over according to the census of 1907, was 1,481,573. Of foreign whites there were 196,881, and the percentage of illiteracy was 25.6. Of the total number of colored persons—453,714—the percentage of illiteracy was 55. The total native white population was 830,978 with the percentage of illiteracy 41.4. About one-half the mass of voting age were illiterate. Out of the total population of 2,048,980, 21,420 were carpenters, one out of every seven being illiterate. Of cigar factory operatives there were 24,161, the proportion of illiteracy being slightly higher. But these constituted the better type of workers. Of farmers, planters and farm laborers there were 364,821 males and 3,110 females. Of the males 235,027, or nearly two-thirds, were illiterate. The illiteracy among the females was in about the same proportion. But this is not to be wondered at when one considers the custom which existed for so many years previous to the intervention of the United States. The price of a marriage ceremony cost $50 in advance. The citizens were kept in perpetual poverty by those in power, so that it was impossible for any of the poorer class to enjoy the luxury of a marriage ceremony. Considerable red tape is necessary in Cuba for legal marriage.

The digging of the Panama canal will open the gateway to America for vast numbers from the states of Central America and the South American continent. These will give the southwest an immigration problem such as it has never had before. Those who will come to may be either a blessing or a curse. Much will depend upon how we ourselves welcome them. The United States has already conquered by force of the south. But these new challenge our nation to conquer their hearts as well.

But here they are—another distinct obligation which America must meet. They need schools that will not only teach their children to become efficient workmen but which will teach them the dignity and beauty of labor. In the schools that we furnish we must therefore provide a curriculum which will combine manual training and art and music, besides the other cultural teaching. But principally we must teach those things which make for a better manhood and womanhood.

The Mission of the Twelve. Matt. ix:35—x:15; x:40—x:11.

Golden Text—He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. Matt. x:40.

(1.) Verse 35—If Jesus were to come to the world again to preach under present day conditions would he confine himself to a pastorate or would he travel about preaching, as he did before? Why?

(2.)—Jesus' mission and that of his apostles was to heal alike the bodies and souls of men. Why should that not also be the mission of all Christian workers today?

(3.) Verse 36—What measure of importance must we give to "compassion," or heartfelt pity, for the unsaved masses in order to bring about their salvation?

(4.) Verses 37-38—What is the evidence today that "the harvest truly is plenteous" and that "the laborers are few?"

(5.) In what way can you demonstrate that prayer will increase the number of missionaries and hasten the salvation of the world?

(6.) What can the churches and we as individuals do more than we are doing to bring about the salvation of sinners?

(7.) x:1—Did Jesus give the same power in those days to all his disciples as he did to the twelve?

(8.) What is the limit of the power which Christ gives today to ministers and other active Christians?

(9.) What evidence can you give, if any, that there are those today which have the power to cure disease without medicine?

(10.) What evidence can you give that all Christians have the power and do cast out unclean spirits?

(11.) Verses 24—Can you repeat from memory the names of the twelve apostles?

(12.) Who became the outstanding members of the apostolic company?

(13.) Verses 5-6—Why were the twelve forbidden to work among the Gentiles and to confine themselves to the house of Israel?

(14.) Apart from other reasons, what wise diplomacy was there in getting the Jews to accept Christ before preaching him to the Gentiles?

(15.) Verses 7-8—What is the best news the world has ever heard?

(16.)—(17.) Apart from the miraculous curing of the sick, the deaf, the dumb, the blind and the insane, what has Christianity done and what is it still doing for these unfortunate?

(18.) Verses 9-10—Would Jesus have given them the same instructions, to take no money with them to pay their expenses, if he had sent

His Curiosity
Was Too Strong

The Christmas church services were proceeding very successfully when a woman in the gallery got so interested that she leaned out too far and fell over the railing. Her dress caught in a chandelier and she was suspended in mid-air. The minister noticed her undignified position and thundered at the congregation. "Any person in this congregation who turns around will be struck stone blind!" A man whose curiosity was getting the better of him, but who dreaded the clergyman's warning, finally turned to his companion and said, "I'm going to risk one eye."

Had No Need
For the Others.

At a banquet held in a room, the walls of which were adorned with many beautiful paintings, a well known college president was called upon to respond to a toast. In the course of his remarks, wishing to pay a compliment to the ladies present, and designating the paintings with one of his characteristic gestures, he said—"What need is there of these painted beauties when we have so many with us at this table?"

Don't Blame the Congregation.

There is a good story of a Divinity professor who had an estate in Scotland, and had been invited to preside at the baptism of the last-arrived infant in the already-crowded house of a minister. The guest gave out for congregational singing a paraphrase much favoured on such occasions—"Let us," said he, "sing from the fifth paraphrase, beginning at the second verse: 'As sparks in close succession rise.'" To his consternation the congregation giggled. Afterwards, asking the "minister's man" what had been wrong, that functionary replied—"Ye see, professor, the minister's name is Sparks and you is his tenth bairn!"

The Lady Was No Chicken.

A young surgeon, who was very retiring and awkward, was asked to dinner by a lady who was at least 50 and tried to pass herself off as 20, and apparently imagined that being rude and tomboyish assisted to sustain the youthful illusion. At dinner she asked him to carve a fowl, and never having carved a fowl before, and being painfully shy, he made a mess of it. Instead of trying to cover his confusion his hostess called attention to it pointedly by looking down the table and saying loudly:—"Well, Mr. P., you may be a very clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg off I should not come to you to do it." "No, Lady Alice," he replied, politely: "but then, you see, you are not a chicken."

them to a Gentile nation?

(19.) Verses 11-15—Why does the obligation still rest upon us to liberally support the gospel with our means?

(20.) Verses 40-41:—What sure rewards come to us through receiving the messengers of Christ? Lesson for Sunday, Sept. 15, 1912. Judgment and Mercy. Matt. xi:20-30

CHURCH NEWS

Missionary Prospects

Three well known missionary societies are just closing their books for the year. One, the Episcopal General, is about $75,000 ahead of last year, another, the American board, is appealing to Congressional churches to come to its aid. The third, the American Missionary, closing its books at the end of September, is a few thousand dollars ahead of this date last year, but reports that it must have gifts in unusual sums if it ends even. There appears to be little gain in missions from the agitation of the past two years, beyond a steady gain that has obtained for a generation, and even less from the unusual prosperity which farmers and tradespeople enjoy.

New Counting of American Catholics

Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, and Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, a committee appointed by the last meeting of the Catholic archbishops of America, have just held a meeting for organization and the forming of preliminary plans for the taking of a census of the Catholics of America. The committee is not only to ascertain how many Catholics there are in America, but also to take up the matter of better statistics of Catholic growth, especially of better parochial reports. It is not so much a complaint against United States census figures as it is an effort by Catholics to collect and record exact data concerning their work.

Another Cardinal For America

Reports from Rome that Archbishop Kennedy, rector of the American college, is to be elevated to the Sacred College at the next Consistory, to be held probably in November, are credited in this country as accurate. The reasons for the advancement are in large part personal to Mr. Kennedy, who is recognized as one of the foremost Americans whom Catholics have ever reared and advanced. The Sacred College has only five vacancies, its membership being sixty-five in a possible seventy, and as there is an unwritten law that it is never to be filled to the limit, the reason for a new American cardinal is hardly that of larger representation or a full college.

After a Part of the Billion

People whose burden it is to carry the finances of Christian work of America and the world's share from America, and those who would build up colleges, hospitals and general welfare enterprises, are already making plans to get what they regard as God's share of the $1,000,000,000 of new wealth which government and other crop reports state to be the portion of the farmers since April last. That share is, they say, a modest one compared with sums spent for luxury.

Methodists and Baptists have just made missionary apportionments and in their Methodists have been compelled to include debts amounting to $175,000. A special campaign is to be entered upon, however, to remove the debt.

A home mission campaign, already on to culminate in November, will try to see that home mission's part of the billion is kept in America. The survey of Rocky Mountain, coast and middle west states made last spring, and to be further prosecuted in October and November next, will call for large financial outlay. Education is preparing to get its share and particularly the schools to train laymen, which are new and which are to be pushed for all they are worth.

SUNDAY'S GAME DECIDES TITLE

Winners of Athletics-Clothing Battle Tomorrow Will Hold Place of City Champs

The championship of the city will be at stake tomorrow afternoon when the Athletics and the La Crosse Clothing company baseball teams line up at League park for the third game of the series as each club has one victory over the other to its credit and the combat tomorrow will decide the supremacy. For this reason both teams are looking forward to this contest as the crucial one of the season and both clubs will bend all their energies towards the winning of this game as the victor will have the title of the champions of the diamond in La Crosse.

Two games have already been played by the Athletics and the Clothing, the former team shutting out the latter to the tune of 10 to 0 in the initial combat while the Clothing were victorious by a 14 to 1 count in the second battle. This made a third game necessary and the winner tomorrow in addition to getting the city championship will get the side bet of $300, of which each team posted $150, in addition to all the gate receipts of the three games.

Interest in the deciding game of the series tomorrow afternoon is high among the fans of the city and the indications are that a record crowd will be on hand to see these two teams struggle for the supremacy. As it has been announced that Anderson, the Athletics star twirler who pitched a shutout game last Sunday, will toe the slab for that club and he will be opposed by Bartels, the great slab artist of the Clothing, it looks as if the game will be a pitchers' battle. It is certain that a great game will result when these two pitchers face each other in the crucial combat and one of the fastest games of the season will be the attraction for the fans.

SPARRING PARTNERS EASY FOR NELSON

Reports from Sparta show that Art Nelson is training hard for his exhibition boxing match with John Willie next Thursday evening and that his sparring partners are unable to last many rounds with him as he is in the best of condition.

Nelson had a good workout yesterday when he boxed four rounds with Napoleon who had enough at the end of that time. The gloves were then put on a stranger, who was found later to be a boxer of some ability from La Crosse, but he didn't last one round. He made some fierce swings at Nelson but he merely toyed with him and occasionally sent a right to the jaw and a left to the face. After two minutes, the stranger decided that he could not show up Nelson as he had evidently intended when he started in. By that time Napoleon was rested and he opposed Nelson for four more rounds. A fair sized crowd saw the workout and all were enthusiastic about the exhibition on Thursday.

Nelson and Arthur Schepke will give an exhibition in training at Wilton this evening to show the fans there what great condition the Sparta man is in.

SUMMITS PLAY AT SPARTA TOMORROW

For the third time this year the Summits and the Sparta baseball teams will clash at Sparta tomorrow and a great battle should ensue when these two clubs get together. The Summits were victorious in the first game while the Spartans tied them in the second and the locals are determined to take the third game and win the series. Either Bell or Balduzzi will do the twirling for the Summits.

WORLD'S SERIES TO START ON OCT. 8

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—It is planned to play the opening game of the world's championship series on October 8, it was learned today. The place will be decided by a flip of a coin at the meeting of the National commission, September 16.

It's awfully hard for a woman to pretend not to know the things she knows she ought not to know. Some times it happens that a woman has reason to be thankful because of her husband's neglect. Not everyone is after the money, but, as a general average, the professional is superior to the amateur in his line. Airship stories continue to represent about the safest form of aviation. Again we wonder that it never occurs to the manufacturer to make a small five cent cigar as good as the larger dime variety. Anybody who knows enough to think he ought to teach it to the world wouldn't do himself any harm to stop a minute and learn something from the world.

AD'S INJURY SLIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Emil Thiry, Packey McFarland's manager, announced today that he had received word from Ad Wolgast that the latter's injury, sustained while cranking his automobile, is not as serious as was first supposed and that the champion will start training in a few days for his bout with McFarland September 27. McFarland has never left off training. Thiry said he was negotiating for a match in the near future between McFarland and Joe Mandot.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

The Giants lead today by eight games and the Red Sox are 14 1-2 ahead of the Athletics.

The Polo grounds are being polished for the Giants, while preparations are under way in the Red Sox's yards in Boston. Herrmann and Johnson concede these teams to be championship disputants.

Jeff Tesreau's no hit, no run game yesterday, made him a world's series figure.

Walter Johnson and Joe Woods locked horns in Boston. Wood bested the senatorial star and his winning streak remains unbroken.

The Athletics tightened their grip on the second seat in the first division by downing the Highlanders.

Although the Cubs managed to beat the Reds, the Giants increased their lead and the Reds seated themselves at the bottom of the first division.

Perhaps, however, the narrowing prompts much of the kicking against the narrow gauge skirts; so many worse wrongs need righting.

NOW PROBABLY YOU'VE HAD THE SAME EXPERIENCE AS BEN!
